

---

HENSOLDT CEO Thomas Müller on the BDSV Executive Board

Berlin, 28 November 2018 - Thomas Müller, CEO of sensor manufacturer HENSOLDT, is moving into the Executive Board of the Federal Association of the German Security and Defence Industry (BDSV). As part of the regular BDSV Executive Board reelection, Müller was elected by a large majority as a full member of the Executive Board for a period of three years.

Müller, who has headed the company since HENSOLDT was spun off from the Airbus Group two years ago, is also industrial co-chair of the "European discussion group" of the Federal Ministry of Defence and the BDSV. Before joining HENSOLDT, Müller held various management positions in the defence and space sectors of Airbus.

About HENSOLDT

HENSOLDT is a pioneer of technology and innovation in the field of defence and security electronics. Based in Taufkirchen near Munich and the largest production site in Ulm, HENSOLDT is one of the market leaders in the field of civil and military sensor solutions and develops new products based on innovative approaches for data management, robotics and cyber security to combat a wide range of threats. With around 4,300 employees, HENSOLDT achieves an annual turnover of over 1 billion euros.

www.hensoldt.net

Bildunterschrift:

HENSOLDT CEO Thomas Müller joins the BDSV Executive Board.

Photo: HENSOLDT

Pressekontakt

Lothar Belz

Tel.: (0731) 392.3681

lothar.belz@hensoldt.net